The objective of the Workshop-cum-training program is to familiarize the faculty, administrative staffs, and students about the BLP. This platform is a combination of offline and online learning in a way that the one complements the other. This style of learning provides a way for faculty to engage students through visuals and online interaction. This approach enables effective self-paced learning with personalized learning experience to improve academic outcomes. The workshop will also focus on other IT initiatives of ICAR-IASRI.
